

THE CLAIMS

April 15, 2022

6:32 p.m.

SEERSGATE:

I look at those who give protests. They are not protesting, usually, the way the government operates. They do not complain about how their neighborhoods are governed or how much the typical worker gets paid. So, what are they protesting? Brothers and sisters, supposedly. Why do I say supposedly? Because what house can stand when there is a war within?

(22) And the scribes who came down from Jerusalem were saying, "He is possessed by Beelzebul," and "by the prince of demons he casts out the demons." (23) And he called them to him and said to them in parables, "How can Satan cast out Satan? (24) If a kingdom is divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand. (25) And if a house is divided against itself, that house will not be able to stand. (26) And if Satan has risen up against himself and is divided, he cannot stand, but is coming to an end. (27) But no one can enter a strong man's house and plunder his goods, unless he first binds the strong man. Then indeed he may plunder his house. (28) "Truly, I say to you, all sins will be forgiven the children of man, and whatever blasphemies they utter, (29) but whoever blasphemes against the Holy Spirit never has forgiveness, but is guilty of an eternal sin"— (30) for they were saying, "He has an unclean spirit."

—Mark 3:22-30 ESV

SEERSGATE CONTINUES:

How does the Church continue on with so much dissention, contempt, and chaos? Hurting each other, bickering, and fighting. So many denominations and many different ways of interpreting Scripture to have it make sense.

Those who worship Satan come under their own way of order, and they understand the demon's way of submission to their demonic hierarchy. Lower demons submit to greater demons. Can you consider a lower surging of demons commanding a greater demon of territorial governing strength to submit?

If Satan's kingdom has a structure that submits within each other, how can the Church ignore a concept of a governing structure not to abandon? Here is a look at a hierarchy, Satan's order against us:

(10) Finally, be strong in the Lord and in the strength of his might. (11) Put on the whole armor of God, that you may be able to stand against the schemes of the devil. (12) For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against the rulers, against the authorities, against the cosmic powers over this present darkness, against the spiritual forces of evil in the heavenly places. (13) Therefore take up the whole armor of God, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand firm.

—Ephesians 6:10-13 ESV

SEERSGATE CONTINUES:

I am now seeing it—the way Satan is moving against the Church. The enemy has become within; a focus is now placed upon “a singled-out” Scripture, homing in on one flaw, disagreement, or misinterpretation. Yet the misstep could be heretical. Yet the error could be a cultural difference or a theological misunderstanding.

With so many different ways people decipher Scripture and with heated emotional barriers, mistrust, and hurtful leaving of former churches, will there ever be love and order the way Yahweh commands us? The love I refer to is not of tolerance and acceptance of heretical ways. Even the early church leaders did not always first agree on every plan involved in the work.

But what is the difference with today's Church? We're still in the same Church Era as the early church leaders, yet the cultural basis has turned many against each other, trying to figure out how to assimilate into a culture set so many years ago. The culture base from Scripture (in reference to the New Testament) is blended with Jews and Gentiles, a merging that is difficult to have one nature dominantly surge.