

BREAKING THE BLOOD-SIN COVENANT

I once knew a young teenager who barely began to develop breasts, and at a young tender age, her youth was taken by a young power-driven child who fondled her and made her virgin detail her playground. Why is it necessary to start such a powerful God-filled teaching with such a graphic plan? I would not have another plan from Yahweh that would have the other to see that this so-called harmless act could not be harmless in dealing with powerful soul ties and blood sin.

I am that young, abused teenager spoken of, never saying how she was abused by a young girl who paraded herself as a real friend. I am now in my mid-forties, yet the deed that happened behind this relative's house still comes up into my heart for this sole will to give others a plan to have freedom from those who have brought them a form of pain. Here is a way to share the real root of the torture.

You are purposed to be someone greater than anyone would label you, but what must happen is that within you, the true purpose will have to begin with a root firmly grounded in how Yahweh views you, not how others say.

Why is this important? I am aware that every human has dealt with some form of influence, and the ground of planting the seed is pushed into position from the uterus and fully implemented in the young childhood outings. I have watched how children are young and free in how they cross over into other cultures without worrying about what side effects would stir up.

As the child moves up in natural age, the will to be loving, just by wanting a friend, gives way to putting up a judgment based on certain requirements shared with that child. As time goes on, the painful memories and experiences bring a tainted look and cause guarded relationships to lead them.

The marriage bed would not be exempt from judgment, and that wounded person would still choose to hide in their shame, as if they are still violated, even by the one who is a true lover. How does it all join under this teaching? Blood ties are strong in spiritual joinings. Blood ties have a bonding that connects you through a spiritual vow. Your word goes into the earth and creates a purpose that you could not see with natural vision.

Here is how a blood sin takes way: You get a sharp object to create a wound on your body, usually the limb given in covenant. Your hand gives handshakes, and a handshake is a form of agreement and unity in situations. A plan comes forward in a spoken vow through token sharing of each other's blood with a blood connection. That cut made on your body produces blood spilled. And you would then take a "power" way to get your blood mixed with that plan of a vow that comes from the other person who shares their blood of mixing in a sharing ceremony.

The blood in the person is the life way. The way a person stays alive is carried forth by natural blood pumped through their natural body.

When someone calls attention to the spirit realm, with a saying that they have a power plan to have a spiritual joining with the person who is sharing their blood, there is a reaction. The unaware person says they are joining their blood through a "sister" or "brother" blood cut when their actual way of joining is with family line spirits, addictions, oppression, depression, unnatural acts, and curses. That plan will come forward when your childhood friend has you cut your natural flesh and have your blood spill to transfer a blood plan that also yields a spiritual invasion into the other inferior one.

Children aren't the only ones who will give a mixing of natural blood to seal a covenant. Even church people, government officials, and those in the occult will take in blood joinings.

People take human blood in their drinks, and they spill the blood over Satan's altars when killing innocent people. People praise Satan with movies that drink the other person's real way of being sustained. The drinking of the blood takes you into a sealing plan that will require the expelling of demons.

How do we connect the baring of natural breasts to the spilling of human blood in a “mixing” covenant? A “mixing” covenant is defined as taking your blood and mixing it with another person’s blood. The showing of natural breasts will precede the sacrificing or domination, or the demon filling, given. When there is a showing of breasts needed in the movie scene, there will be a joining of fleshly action that will open the door to greater demon engagement.

The eye gate is the path Satan uses to bring a breach into the human to weaken their defenses and bring great spiritual destruction from within. Breaking down the hedge of protection is the root reason major Hollywood films have casual nudity scenes placed in certain ways because the human territory must have a breach that will give demons a plan to enter at will.

I will amplify this point: Satan is aware that humans naturally crave the naked figure due to how Yahweh creates the need to recreate and connect with others. The human must have their eye gates under guarded settings so that power doesn’t shift to have demon influences have leading ways.

She had the person bare her breasts to show there was an overpowering. Some major Hollywood producers have women show their chests before they are secured for a movie role. Young women show their chests to get various roles in power. Look at how blood ties in this. Look at how submission presents itself, and then a joining of blood, in covenant actions, seals the fate.

See how Satan uses the human’s eyes to have sex and murder acts tie up in a film, revealing both activities. See how people tolerate various harmful acts.

The shedding of blood and the breaking down of others, to have submission—that gives a gateway to spreading viruses within the children, which take hold of the spirit; and it shapes the victim’s heart, to create greater webs of sexual and blood sin that have a strong foundation in the occult.

And this is how Satan takes the loving act of husband and wife sharing the naked bodies and turns it into a plan of a bondage and submission act of baring of the chest to give leverage over the one under submission. And with open doorways, there will be a major demon transfer with a form of shedding of blood—whether in a film or in cutting the flesh or in human sacrifice, murder, and mutilation.

Murder is the root demon to blood sin, and the gate used to open the door to torment would be using the eyes.

Holy unto Yahweh. Become a holy way, set apart for Kingdom use. Break this addiction to Murder. Take away the “blood” thirst to see people killed in movies. Take a Kingdom order position that gives honor to the naked female body and treasure it with protective ways.

Take a glance at the opposite gender, yet keep your eyes guarded.

A PRAYER TO BREAK THE STRONGHOLD OF THE BLOOD-SIN ACT

In the name of the Great King Jesus, I speak to the blood-sin act that I vowed to uphold, and at this moment, I renounce all joinings in the spirit realm that hinder my covenant relationship with Yahweh. In the name of the Great King Jesus, I come out from under the oppressive actions that are connected with a blood covenant. There will be no further abusive ways with the sharing of naked breasts. There will be a way of pure marriage ways and a holy life with the great power of the Way King Jesus. The chains of bondage and the covenant of blood have been revoked through the blood of King Jesus. Angels are here to bring a cleaning and a refreshing way into my whole living. There will be a full powerful release as I enter deep communion with the Great Way. I will no longer use that blood sin as a power plan of connecting with the old way. It is resolved. King Jesus paid a great price to bring me freedom. I choose King Jesus, and I renounce all covenant joinings that are not from Yahweh. Amen. Amen. Amen. Seal me in the blood of the Great King Jesus. Let God free me. And I yield in body, soul, and spirit to King Jesus and the Kingdom purpose, free from the blood sin.
