

IS GOD WATCHING YOU IN SEXUAL DETAILS?

Is God watching you in sexual details?

Well, is God watching you engage in any sexual contact? Would you think that sex can be fun even while Yahweh looks on? God will not hide in shame, as if He has not created your entire cellular structure. God is not like your parent. He will not judge your heart for wanting to make passionate love to your spouse. He lovingly encourages tender rubbing and touching, rough play without harming your spouse.

Your sex act is pure in God's eyes when Yahweh is the Head of what takes place. When God watches, He is not looking at pornography. When God views the action, there are times when Yahweh will state how a touch of the hand or the mouth in love can make your spouse feel special. Yield to Yahweh and ask Him to show you how real love in sexual acts brings powerful healing.

Say your thoughts out loud. Tell your spouse without shame where to touch. Speak your heart out loud. Let Yahweh bring closure to the past actions of others who caused great pain. Abuse, torture, and infidelity can hurt future love adventures. Take some time to share your past to release the tension from the emotional walls built from the hurt. When you share your feelings with your spouse and God, the three of you can work towards bringing forward a marriage that sustains the trials and temptations. Praying to God is just as important. Prayer is saying your way, and Yahweh does care.

When alone with your spouse in that way of romance, the way God made your body to enjoy is a pleasure not to be masked with fakeness. Don't say fake sounds. Don't talk in deceptive ways to pretend to be content. Be transparent with God and your spouse; if something doesn't feel right, please tell your spouse. Even while doing your action, take mindful awareness of how they are. That's part of caring.

You do care about talking with Yahweh. You also care about friendships. You are caring towards work friendships if they are real connections. Why not seek God's help to bring close encounters in the marriage bed? God has such great wisdom that is not humanlike, and He cares. So, being your real self in your passionate acts can bring great freedom to each involved. Intimacy is more than sexual actions. Real intimacy reveals itself when there is no fear of being real: yourself, yielding to what your partner sees and what God gives.

May Yahweh help you to see that natural actions will indeed affect the spirit way.
